To whom it may concern:

We recently worked with Allied Construction Associates to successfully complete construction on the 64,000 square foot, 18 million dollar, International Community School/Community Elementary School in Kirkland WA, for the Lake Washington School District.

This was a challenging, multi-faceted, project that required difficult phasing in order to construct a new school, demolish existing structures, and complete extensive site work within the project timeline available to us. Clint Bjella and his team at Allied Construction Associates rose to the challenge and were able to stay on schedule throughout the project, deliver a quality product and successfully open the doors on time.

We would welcome the opportunity to work with Allied Construction Associates again and build on our past success.

Sincerely,

Glenn S. Steiner, Architect
